immortalis - Uluwatu will be the first location in the world which is entirely powered up by free-energy technology. Completely independent of the utility grid, this factor alone will make the project world famous and pioneering in terms of economic and ecologic sustainability

how the QT-Pi works

- no resources outside a starting battery are needed to generate power
- continuous perpetual output with no moving parts (solid-state)
- no emissions, toxic substances or harmful EMF's the QT-Pi Generator is spinning the generated magnetic field to create high frequency alternating current. This energy harvesting can be demonstrated and measured now with conventional voltage and amp meters.
